

Paris (15th district) 2025

With over 30 years of teaching experience the Paris school offers a wonderful central city study environment to suit ALL linguistic needs (across 6-8 language levels on general language courses).

Paris is historic, modern, cultural, diverse, beautiful & has a night life to suit all tastes.

The year-round college facilities include 14 classrooms, an internet room (with wif-fi), a self-study centre and a library within a short walk from the Eiffel Tower and within easy reach of all the Parisian sights. A second site is used in the summer specifically for younger students in the southern suburbs of the city. Please discuss with CESA.

The wide range of French language courses on offer include general language courses, French & Law courses, DELF & CCIP exam preparation. The college suits all language learners and is particularly good for students looking to put their French skills into practise or revise prior to exams and Gap students requiring a Languages for Life course for long term study.

Jeremy: Combined Course

"I only had a week, but what a week. My grammar and sentence construction has really improved but it was the one to one lessons that really boosted my confidence. I was shattered by Friday but it was worth it."

Edward : Languages for Life

I expected the course to be hard work, and it was, but it wasn't a struggle which is what I'd thought/feared, as the different language levels were carefully pitched. In fact I saw significant improvement by the end of the course (just made the C1 class before I left). I really liked the way the school used authentic materials; newspaper articles etc rather than textbooks, in lessons. The classes were always pitched at adult learners and the teachers expected us to be motivated and get involved, which really suited me. Once in Paris, I booked extra afternoon sessions, which worked well for me. I'd suggest students consider the Writing and Grammar class (sounds dull, but good revision) and the Culture and Civilization class (relaxed class but good for putting the language in to context)."
