

French A' level Revision

Paris (Les Halles) 2018

Programme details

Only French will be spoken in class
Language students can follow a one week intensive immersion course, in this amazing city. The course is appropriate for teenagers who are independent, and mature enough not to require constant direction from group leaders. All teachers are fully qualified and experienced in teaching French as a foreign Language.

The course is academically demanding, and the French language college staff are aware that the students want to make the most of their time in Paris and will do all they can to assist students to ensure they enjoy their French experience, both in and outside the classroom.

This is an intensive course in small groups to maximise students' performance. The main objective is to improve linguistic abilities, whilst concentrating on the skills essential to the A' level (or European equivalent) exam. A great deal of emphasis is placed on oral participation through personal presentations and role-playing.

Course objectives and methodology

- to prepare for the A-LEVEL French examination
- to train for specific examinations (listening activities, presenting a theme, writing a letter, narrative ~ or summary, etc.)
- to practice linguistic skills (written expression, "essay planning", oral / written comprehension, oral / interactive communication)
- to revise grammar and build vocabulary communicative methods, role play and use of real documents

Open to : 16/19 yr old students

Is this course for you ?

Yes. If you're looking for a demanding French A' level revision course in Paris, living with French hosts (or can arrange your own accommodation in Paris). It's perfect for A' level students looking to prepare prior to their 1st or 2nd year ~ it's aimed at A' level, IB, Abitur, Matura etc students across Europe.

Past students have really enjoyed living and studying in Paris. The course aims to significantly increase spoken confidence and written skills.

A' level Course Description
