John: Private Tuition

“Having two tutors each day, meant I had nowhere to hide! The different perspectives and approaches were really helpful and my grammar has greatly improved. Many thanks.”

Emily: Combined Course

“My expectations were definitely met. The private lessons were particularly enjoyable and beneficial; being virtually identical to the supervisions I have at University. Group lessons were also enjoyable. The location of the school was excellent. The staff and teachers were very approachable. The best parts of the course were the private lessons and meeting so many nice people. Paris is amazing! I've decided thanks to my exploration of the city during the course, to spend a year there, next year, as part of my degree course.”

Eleanor: A' level Revision

“The lessons in French were great revision and practice for both listening and speaking confidence and the cultural topics were so interesting: French schooling, political system etc. The experience exceeded all my expectations! I was so impressed with my lessons: there was only me and two other students, so we were able to get to know each other really well and have lots of attention from the teacher. The lessons were so interesting, much better than school! I found cultural topics such as the French political system and education system so interesting and learning about it in French helped with the language skills as well. I really liked the relaxed feeling in the class.”
